I'm pleased to introduce our keynote speaker:

Kate O'Neill was one of the first hundred employees at Netflix, back when it was still mailing DVDs in red envelopes. She's had a front-row seat to every wave of technology since, and she's spent the last dozen years advising Google, IBM, Microsoft, and the United Nations on what to do about it.

The world knows her as the Tech Humanist. Thinkers50 knows her as one of the top management thinkers on the planet. She's written six books, most recently What Matters Next.

She's spent twenty-five years on a single question:
how do we build technology that's worth having?
Today she'll help us answer it for ourselves.

Please join me in welcoming Kate O'Neill!

Preferred Walk-On and Walk-Off Music

“Human” by The Killers, ideally cued up to about 0:36–0:37 seconds in, where the prechorus/chorus comes in, is generally a solid bet. But anything upbeat will do. :)
